Dear Sirs

As I have been unable to obtain a copy of the "Resident Forum", I detail below my opinions of the suggestion to terminate long distance rail services in Edinburgh:

- 1) To force travellers on trains coming from the south to change in Edinburgh:-
 - a) It is counter productive
 - b) Tourists prefer simpler journeys, Edinburgh anyway would be a nightmare for them.
 - c) It would also create severe problems for the disabled, families with small children + people with a lot of luggage
 - d) Any of these could lead to missed connections + compound the problems for travellers.

Yours faithfully
