No comment

No comment:

8. What sanctions should be used to ensure the franchisee fulfils its franchise commitments?

No comment

Achieving reliability, performance and service quality

9. Under the franchise, should we incentivise good performance or only penalise poor performance?

No comment

10. Should the performance regime be aligned with actual routes or service groups, or should there be one system for the whole of Scotland?

No comment

11. How can we make the performance regime more aligned with passenger issues?

No closures of stations

12. What should the balance be between journey times and performance?

No comment

13. Is a Service Quality Incentive Regime required? And if so should it cover all aspects of stations and service delivery, or just those being managed through the franchise?

No comment

14. What other mechanisms could be used for assessing train and station quality?

No comment

Scottish train services

15. Can better use be made of existing train capacity, such as increasing the permitted standing time beyond the limit of 10 minutes or increasing the capacity limit? What is an acceptable limit for standing times on rail services?

No comment

16. Should the number of services making use of interchange stations (both rail to rail and rail to other modes) be increased to reduce the number of direct services? What would be the opportunities and challenges of this?

No comment

17. Should Government direct aspects of service provision such as frequency and journey time, or would these be better determined by the franchisee based on customer demand?

No comment

18. What level of contract specification should we use for the next ScotRail franchise?

No comment

19. How should the contract incentivise the franchisee to be innovative in the provision of services?

No comment

Scottish rail fares

20. What should be the rationale for, and purpose of, our fares policy?

No comment

21. What fares should be regulated by government and what should be set on a commercial basis? Do your recommendations change by geographic area (the Strathclyde area example), or by type of journey (for example suburban or intercity)?

No comment

22. How should we achieve a balance between the taxpayer subsidy and passenger revenue contributions in funding the Scottish rail network? At what rate should fares be increased, and how feasible would it be to apply higher increases to Sections of the network which have recently been enhanced?

No comment

23. What should the difference be between peak and off-peak fares? Will this help encourage people to switch to travelling in the off-peak?

No comment

Scottish stations

24. How should we determine what rail stations are required and where, including whether a station should be closed?

Generally all stations should be retained unless there is an exceptional case for closure. Where there has been increased usage, like Kennishead, a station should be retained. Also the poor, like Kennishead, should not be penalised. Also the suggested alternative station is on a route frequented by rival gangs (verifiable by community police). Carnwadric Church strongly opposes the threatened closure of Kennishead station.

25. What are the merits or issues that arise from a third party (such as a local authority or local business) being able to propose, promote and fund a station or service?

No comment

26. Should only one organisation be responsible for the management and maintenance of stations? If this was the franchisee how should that responsibility be structured in terms of leasing, investment, and issues relating to residual capital value?

No comment

27. How can local communities be encouraged to support their local station?

Improving the service e.g. Kennishead has no Sunday service.

28. What categories of station should be designated and what facilities should be available at each category of station?

No comment

Cross-border services

29. Should cross-border services continue to go north of Edinburgh? In operating alongside ScotRail services, how do cross-border services benefit passengers and taxpayers? And who should specify these services, the Department of Transport or the Scottish Ministers?

No comment

30. Or should the cross-border services terminate at Edinburgh Waverley, allowing opportunities for Scottish connections? And if so, what additional benefits would accrue from having an Edinburgh Hub?

No comment

Rolling stock

31. What alternative strategies or mechanisms could be used to reduce the cost of the provision of rolling stock?

No comment

32. What facilities should be present on a train and to what extent should these facilities vary according to the route served?

No comment

Passengers – information, security and services

33. How should we prioritise investment for mobile phone provision and / or Wi-Fi type high-bandwidth services?

No comment

No comment

35. What issues and evidence should be considered prior to determining whether or not to ban the consumption of alcohol on trains?

Public interest

36. How can the provision of travel information for passengers be further improved?

37. Should we continue to specify sleeper services, or should this be a purely commercial matter for a train operating company?

No comment

38. Should the Caledonian Sleeper services be contracted for separately from the main ScotRail franchise? Or should it be an option for within the main ScotRail franchise?

No comment

39. We would be interested in your views in the level and type of service that the Caledonian Sleeper Services should provide. Including:

- What is the appeal of the Caledonian Sleeper Service, and if there were more early and late trains would the appeal of the sleeper services change?
- What is the value of sleeper services to Fort William, Inverness and Aberdeen and are these the correct destinations, for example would Oban provide better connectivity?
