

Professor Martin Cloonan

I am writing to protest in the strongest terms at plans which have been mooted to stop direct rail services between Maryhill and Queen Street. Such a move would be contrary to the interests of local residents and businesses.

One of the reasons I bought a property in Maryhill was the presence of a regular train service to the city centre. The withdrawal of the service would have an entirely detrimental impact on the area and I urge you to retain and continue to improve the service.
