

Jenny Reid

As a resident of Dundee and disabled, I would, for my personal ease in travel, prefer that there are still train services that go beyond Edinburgh from the south. I have observed, when travelling through Edinburgh and on to Dundee, that the train is extremely busy.