

Julie-Ann Skinner

I am writing to express my frustration and disappointment at your plans to close Kelvindale train station. I believe closing the station would have a significant impact on the community, as Kelvindale has inadequate transport links without reducing services. On a personal level I have a young family and we depend on the Kelvindale train service as neither my husband or I can drive. I commute to work by train on this line and if the station was to close my commute would increase by starting my train journey at Anniesland. The increased journey time would have a detrimental effect on my family life as I would spend longer travelling.

Many of my family and friends also do not drive and use the Kelvindale train when visiting, they would not be able to travel to Anniesland Station due to mobility issues.

I would urge you to reconsider your position, many people within the community depend on the rail service and closing the station would have a negative impact on the community.