

Equality and diversity monitoring form

As an employer, it is the aim of the Scottish Government to become an exemplar in the field of diversity and to broadly reflect the communities we serve. We also want to ensure that our job opportunities are open to all. To help us achieve this, it is important that we obtain accurate and complete data from every job applicant and employee.

All information gathered will be used only for the purposes of monitoring and collated data will never be published where there are numbers less than five to ensure that individuals cannot be identified.
